

Champakaranya

Nestled in the dense evergreen forest of Biligiri Rangana betta range “Champakaranya” (forest of Champak trees) is a serene home away from home surrounded by the elements in their full glory.

A perfect retreat for being one with nature, exploring the wild, kindling the calm within, and creating everlasting memories...

Champakaranya

“Champakaranya” the ancient name for the BR Hills was named after the well-known Dodda Sampige (michelia champaca) or in Sanskrit known as the “Sampige” aged around 400 years and revered by the Soligas the indigenous people of the BR hills.

Sunset point at Champakaranya

Champakaranya

Birding around Champakaranya (250 species of sweet sounding and mesmerizing birds)

Champakaranya

Serene stare at nature

Champakaranya

Wild neighbourhood

Champakaranya

At home with the "Soligas"

Champakaranya

An extended family

Champakaranya

Treasure your memories

Champakaranya

Well furnished rooms with all amenities. Eco friendly tented cottages also available for a rustic experience.

Welcome drink and authentic South Indian Veg and Non Veg.

Wildlife safari

Trekking

Birding

Soliga "Podu" visit

Nature Walk

Naturalist Training

Photography Workshop

Champakaranya

www.champakaranya.in

For Detailed information and Reservations

Vallish .V.Kaushik
Naturalist, Conservationist
Founder: Watches India Trust

Mob: 98452 18481
vaasukinaag@gmail.com